The Zaky - A Baby Pillow that Moms Love!

August 13th, 2007

Summertime seems to be "baby time" and invitations to baby showers, birth announcements and celebrations seem to come in a never-ending stream! Finding a perfect gift for a newborn isn't always easy and I am always on the lookout for that unique gift that no one else will find. Here's my latest favorite, something that is useful, different and absolutely indispensable for newborns and their parents.... The Zaky!

Originally designed for use in NICUs, the Zaky is a type of pillow that helps comfort, support and positions your baby providing a sense of protection that resembles a Mom's arm and hand. In fact, the Zaky is the only product specifically developed to have the scent of mom, so it help babies bond with their mothers even when they are away from each other.

Zakys are made from 100% anti-pilling extra-soft micro fleece with a lining of 100% polyester and are all hypo-allergenic and safe to use directly on a baby's tender skin. It actually mimics the size and weight of a mother's touch and can be used on top, around and under the baby to provide boundaries (except on the face). Babies feel reassured as if someone is touching them, and provides a feeling of protection.

Heat a Zaky (SRP $39.99) up in the dryer or use it on a cool day. The material used actually wicks excess moisture away leaving your newborn comfortable. These innovative pillows can be used while breastfeeding or as a support in the car seat. Best yet, they are completely machine-washable, lightweight and easy to take along.

The Zaky has won the 2007 Best Products Award by iParenting Media. Can you think of a better gift for a new family? I sure can't and it has become my baby gift of choice...
